Over 380 volunteers are involved in a wide range of activities, from familiar roles such as shops, to support of patients in the day hospice, and the family support teams. They are all very committed people who give their time as a respected and important part of the teams

Many volunteers are involved in more than one role.

Areas of involvement include –

Day Hospice – providing a listening ear and emotional support for patients and their families as well as practical help such as serving meals and refreshments. Tuesday to Friday 10am till 3pm

Kitchen – helping with preparation of food and generally assisting the cook in clearing away/washing up. Tuesday to Friday 11am till 2pm

Garden – maintaining areas of the garden, enhancing planted areas and seasonal pots. Tuesdays 9am till 12.30pm

Driving – bringing patients to and from the hospice who would otherwise be unable to attend.

Also driving patients to and from the hospice for outpatient appointments and occasionally hospital appointments.

Craft – guiding and assisting patients in making things, (cards, gifts, glass & pottery painting etc.), which they can give as gifts to family or friends. Also an important form of diversional therapy.

Hairdressing/beauty – boosting patients' confidence through hairstyling, manicure, hand massage.

Reception – the first point of contact for all patients and visitors, and a friendly and efficient voice on the telephone. Monday to Friday 9am till 12.30pm or 12.30pm till 3.30pm

Administration - There are various departments within the hospice that require administration support on a regular basis and this can include typing, filing, photocopying, updating folders, data inputting, making telephone calls to book appointments, making packs and research, this list is not exhaustive as there are many other tasks.

Complementary therapies – providing reflexology, homeopathy, aromatherapy, massage to patients and their carers.

Family Support – visiting families at home to provide ongoing support as needed.

Children's Family Support – helping to support children where a family member has been affected by a diagnosis of a life-threatening illness.

A Volunteer Profile

Counselling – qualified counsellors who give their time as volunteers.

Cancer Support/ Bereavement Support groups – facilitating groups of people at various stages of their illness or bereavement in a self-help, more independent environment.

Fundraising– helping with various fundraising activities in many different capacities from organizing or taking part in events, holding stalls and street collections, running raffles and tombola's, distributing literature to advertise up and coming events, running supporter groups in the local community or becoming an ambassador and doing talks to raise awareness of the work that the hospice does and how much it relies on donations, the list is not exhaustive as there are many other roles within the department.

Shops-In our Primrose Hospice charity shops as they provide the Hospice with an important proportion of our funds ,there are a variety of different opportunities, sorting and pricing stock, restocking the shop, doing creative displays, serving customers and using the till, or tidying and chatting to the customers to make them feel welcome in our shops, using a computer and the internet to list valuable donations on eBay, the list is not exhaustive as there are many more roles in the shops.

What do we look for? – People who seek involvement in an organization where patients have a very positive attitude to their illness, and a determination to get the most out of life. People who are reliable, committed, empathetic, understand the need for strict confidentiality, and have life skills and experience to bring.

What do volunteers get out of it? - Volunteers know that their work is appreciated by staff & patients alike. They become part of a caring team. By giving their time and expertise they enable the hospice to spend its resources on direct patient care. They become important ambassadors for the hospice within the community.
